Meet our customers...

Yale Door

Yale Door wanted to enhance its ecommerce website with a fast, engaging and interactive product configurator. In addition to providing an improved customer experience, it has to allow new products and rule changes to be quickly and easily introduced without requiring help from an external supplier.

Eurotherm by Schieder Electric

Eurotherm needed to produce accurate quotations quickly from within their CRM system, automatically generate complex part numbers based upon specific product configurations, and then seamlessly transfer those configurations to their ERP system, when converting to an order.

Howe Green

Howe Green manufactures access covers for the building industry. Our product allows them to produce fast, accurate quotes for contractors and direct customers quickly, easily and accurately.
